

NORTHUMBERLAND DAY

INSPIRATION & ACTIVITIES FOR
PRIMARY SCHOOLS
+ A VERY SPECIAL
PRIZE!

Northumberland Day is the county of Northumberland's special day.

The first Northumberland Day was celebrated in 2017 and was a huge success. This year's Northumberland Day will take place on Sunday May 27, the day before the County Show, but celebrations will be taking place a week before and a week after. This gives schools a great opportunity to stage activities in the classroom before breaking up for the Spring Bank Holiday. Have fun, learn more about Northumberland & celebrate!

What Could We Do?

- Download our Education Pack with lesson ideas & school trip to be won
- Ask pupils to dress in red & yellow
- Get pupils to draw/make Northumberland flags & take them to their favourite places for a pic
- Plant flowers in red & yellow
- Make your own Northumberland guide book
- Fly the flag
- Come up with your own special ideas to compete for the education Northumbie!

"We got involved from the start of this project as we believe that it is important to celebrate and preserve the beauty and traditions of Northumberland as we draw together as a community to achieve a shared goal. At Newsham Primary, we see this shared project as a real opportunity to celebrate all that is good about Northumberland, Blyth and Newsham Primary in a way that unites our community towards achieving visible outcomes and having fun.

"It is important that our young people understand their immediate and wider locality, so that the history and traditions are preserved."

Caroline Elton, Deputy Head, Newsham Primary, Blyth

Did you know?

Northumberland Day has its own very special awards – The Northumbies?

One of these handmade, fused-glass trophies will go to 'The Most Passionate School'. Last year, that was Newsham Primary School in Blyth. This year, could it be your school?
